

Kitsilano High School PAC
Presents

sexplainer
Helping parents raise sexually intelligent kids.

Marnie Goldenberg, a writer and educator, is the Sexplainer.

As a sexual health educator and parent, Marnie knows the new realities our kids are facing growing up in a technological and highly sexualized world. Parents want and need help navigating conversations with teens and Marnie's approach is honest, forthright and fun. She will touch on topics including developing sexual values, as well as covering issues like porn, sexting, consent, navigating sexual relationships and safe sex.

Join us in a conversation with Marnie to gain skills to help you confidently talk to the important teenagers in your life. While Marnie's presentation will be geared to parents of teenagers, students who are interested in attending with adult family members are welcome.
